

LINH NGUYEN

+31 641942871 | mlinhg05@gmail.com | <https://www.linkedin.com/in/linhnguyen511/> | Groningen
<https://linhnguyen-511.github.io/Portfolio/> | <https://github.com/LinhNguyen-511>

SUMMARY

An independent, self-motivated Economics graduate with proven and tested organization, communication, and analytical skills, along with software development experiences and tech-savviness to pick up new tools quickly. Experienced with Web Development, design patterns (especially MVVM), REST APIs and testing. Passionate about creating user-friendly and beautifully designed websites.

SKILLS

Hard skills: JavaScript, HTML, CSS | jQuery | Vue.js | PHP | MySQL | Bootstrap | Java | Git | WordPress

Soft skills: Excellent communication skills | Time management | Detail-orientation | Problem solving | Adaptability | Analysis

Languages: English (Bilingual), Dutch (beginner)

EDUCATION

BSc – Economics and Business Economics (GPA 7.7) Radboud University, Nijmegen (September 2017 – July 2020)

Programming Courses:

- Introduction to business programming: Mastered the foundation of programming, especially the 4 pillars of Object-oriented programming: Abstraction, Encapsulation, Inheritance, Polymorphism
- Object-oriented programming (OOP): Practiced inheritance, interface, design patterns and JUnit test

Exchange term University of New South Wales, Sydney (August 2019 – December 2019)

WORK EXPERIENCE

Project manager

Nijmegen, the Netherlands (June 2018 – July 2019)

AIESEC - an international organization that provides young people with leadership development, cross-cultural internships, and volunteer experiences

- Initiated a data-driven strategy for the Project team to collaborate more efficiently with the Marketing team, which resulted in an 80% increase in conversion rate
- Successfully managed and oriented the team which enhanced productivity and performance
- Worked as a students' advisor during students' application and selection period for their international internships
- Within a year, succeeded in helping 90 students to accomplish their international internship
- Promoted to be an AIESEC trainer, gained training certification to coach on personal development for AIESEC team

Event planner

Nijmegen, the Netherlands (November 2017 – May 2018)

UNICEF - a UN agency that provides humanitarian and developmental aid to children worldwide

- Distributed flyers and marketed on Facebook to successfully organize a pub quiz and a karaoke night, each attracted 50-100 students in Nijmegen
- Optimized budget spending by opting for the most cost-efficient venues regarding the estimated number of attendees
- Successfully raised over 5000 euro for UNICEF towards improving lives of underprivileged children

LEADERSHIP ACTIVITIES

Team Leader Remote, Arnhem (September 2020)

Winner - MIT Covid-19 Hackathon

- Led a team of 7 on the Kovida project to reduce labor-market friction faced by the blue-collar workforce in the SME sector in India
- Owned the planning, organizing and documenting meetings
- Ensured clear communication on task division and current progress for every member considering the difference in time zones

Team leader Sydney, Australia (August 2019 – October 2019)

UNSW Social entrepreneur practicum

- Led a team of 4 on the Bird Nest project to create a new income source for single mother in Sydney
- Used Design Thinking to design a solution that can create an income source for single mothers across Sydney, Australia while ensuring safety and education for their children